MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

SUBJECT: Selection-Out Procedures

I am in agreement with the procedural steps outlined in your memorandum of 17 April, but I would like to make sure that everyone concerned understands that the appeal to the Inspector General is merely the appeal that every employee is entitled to in paragraph 5. c. of Regulation [REDACTED] and is not a particular procedural aspect of the selection-out program. I believe [REDACTED] should be careful to emphasize this in speaking to the employees. Otherwise it might at some point be construed as a matter of right on a selection-out case that for some specific reason we wish to handle in another manner. For instance, it could occur that a case would arise where because of personal reasons or an official relationship the Inspector General would not want to be the appeal point and the Director would designate someone else.
